

Sister Mallory is the daughter of the late Willie R. Sawyer and Sarah D. Sawyer. Sister Mallory was raised in a Christian home along with three brothers, two older sisters, and an identical twin.

She was educated in the Darlington County Public School System in Darlington, South Carolina, and graduated from Mayo High School in 1981. She received a classical singing scholarship to attend Elizabeth City State University, Elizabeth City, North Carolina. In 1985, she received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Early Childhood Education from Elizabeth City State University. Sister Mallory was a 2nd grade elementary school teacher in Florence School District One, Florence, South Carolina, and a 4th and 6th grade teacher in Darlington County School District, Darlington, South Carolina for 12 years. She continued her education and received a Master of Science Degree in Education Administration and Supervision from Winthrop University, Rock Hill, South Carolina. In addition, she taught Adult Education courses and served as an adjunct professor for the Citadel and Francis Marion Universities. There, she trained classroom teachers in educational technology. Currently, Sister Mallory is an Educational Technologist Staff Development Coordinator for 19 years for the Department of Defense Schools, located at the Fort Jackson Installation in Columbia, South Carolina. She is pursuing a Philosophy of Doctorate degree in Education, specializing in Educational Technology.

Sister Mallory is a member of Macedonia Baptist Church in Camden, SC where her husband is the pastor since 2001. Her first commitment as a Christian is to fulfil the will of God and support her husband and the ministry, which God has given them.

Her favorite scripture is...

Isaiah 26:3 (KJV)

Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee: because he trusteth in thee.
